At WoodLink®, we take pride in the fact that more of our Audubon products are “Going Green” by using materials that are made out of recycled materials. But it’s more than just developing innovative products that are friendly to the environment. It’s about making our entire operation as efficient and environmentally friendly as possible. That’s a top priority at WoodLink. We continually improve our production and push our suppliers to provide 100% post-consumer recycled materials. As a result, we save the following natural resources EVERY MONTH at WoodLink in our production of bird feeders, houses and accessories:

- More than 52 trees
- 13,740 gallons of fresh water
- 6.4 cubic yards of landfill space
- 9,465 KWH electricity

WoodLink® has been honored for its environmental efforts with Hardware Retailers’ Choice— Best Product award for its line of National Audubon Society’s GOING GREEN® recycled plastic bird feeders and houses. The entire line of GOING GREEN® products are constructed of up to 90% post-consumer recycled plastic.

THE AUDUBON DIFFERENCE

The Audubon brand gives you an edge in the market.

- Outstanding brand recognition
~84% of consumers surveyed recognize the Audubon name
- Appeal
~Birding is currently the fastest-growing outdoor recreational activity
- Credibility
~All products are field-tested by Audubon personnel
- Education
~Birding and nature information is available at www.audubon.org

AUDUBON AT HOME

Information available at www.audubon.org
under the Education Tab

Audubon At Home is about taking individual conservation action that can sustain birds, other wildlife, and healthy habits in yards and neighborhoods. Yards are personal havens for recreation, rest, and relaxation. By adopting a few basic principles, yards can become sanctuaries for wildlife as well. As homeowners create habitat that supports birds, butterflies and other wildlife, they ensure that their yards remain healthy for their family. And by learning about the plants and animals native to their area, homeowners renew their connection with nature. Audubon reference materials are available to guide homeowners and include topics such as:

- What is a Healthy Yard?
- Creating a Healthy Yard
- Plants for Birds and Wildlife
