

Cookie Jar

Putting cookies in and out of this talking cookie jar is a sure way to learn about numbers and counting from one to ten. Two play modes encourage children to count from one to ten as well as recognize the numbers on the cookies. Requires two "AA" batteries (included). Ages 2+ years.

Item #524800

Features

- Talking unit with two play modes
- Repeat button
- Battery operated
- Automatic power shut off
- Compact, portable design
- Durable plastic construction

Benefits

- Introduces numbers and basic counting skills
- Develops language and social interaction skills
- Stimulates tactile/motor skills
- Reinforces listening and problem solving abilities
- Helps build self confidence
- Provides hours of interactive learning fun

Skill Sets

LISTENING / VISUAL

THINKING / LEARNING

MATHEMATICS