

Additional information for dresser assembly.

Step 5:

Each drawer has two fronts. One is already attached to the drawer box, so the instructions below and on the assembly instructions are how to attach the loose fronts to the box.

The top two rows of drawers need to have the front attached so that its bottom is perfectly flush with the box's bottom.

The bottom row of drawers, flip the front so that when attached, its top is perfectly flush with the top of the box.

Step 6:

Pay attention to the location of the screws for the tracks:

Step 7:

The tracks have hooks at their end. That hook has to enter a small notch located in the back of the drawer box.

Each track has a "mini wheel" on its front part. That wheel will allow you to make the final adjustments up or down, to obtain an even gap between each drawer.
